GM Strikers Ask Return To Work and Arbitration; Coal Walkout Threatening

By The Associated Press

Leaders of the 175,000 General Motors strikers proposed yesterday a return to work and arbitration of their wage dispute while John L. Lewis raised the threat of a possible nationwide coal strike April 1 unless wage adjustments are granted his 400,000 soft coal miners.

An authoritative General Motors source, who declined use of his name, asserted the corporation would reject the CIO United Auto Workers union proposal, made in a letter to C. E. Wilson, GM president. But GM officials, after conferences with Wilson at his hospital bedside, said they would reply to the union offer at 2 p. m. (EST) today.

If the corporation agrees to submit the dispute to an arbitrator appointed by President Truman, the union said, it would recommend a return to work under terms of the company's latest proposal.

The corporation has offered an hourly wage boost of 18½ cents the union has held out for 19½ cents, a figure recommended by a presidential fact-finding board.

Final Offer

Earlier in Detroit, Vice-President Henry W. Anderson of General Motors said the corporation's proposal for an 18½ cents hourly wage boost was the "absolute final" offer. The union had rejected this proposal less than 24 hours before, asserting the 102 day old strike would continue "until GM meets its public responsibilities."

Lewis notified the soft coal operators he wanted to reopen the wage question in Washington March 12 and filed 30-day strike notices with governmental agencies.

In serving a strike notice under terms of the war labor dispute act, Lewis advised governmental agencies his miners would "continue to work for the ensuing 30 days."

Issue Injected

In his strike notices—which were dated March 2 and authorized a nationwide shut-down of soft coal operations on April 1—Lewis interjected an issue almost as thorny as the wage question. It covered the right of mine foremen and other supervisory employes to join the union. Coal operators have bitterly opposed such proposals.

Despite the opposing stands of the disputants in the General Motors strike, negotiations were scheduled to be resumed Monday. A short parley yesterday was adjourned without any progress reported.

Politics Seen

Anderson charged that politics within the UAW "stood in the way of settlement" but this was immediately denied by R. J. Thomas, union president.

The GM president expressed the opinion that any action the union leaders would take on a... [illegible]

Idaho Has Hoop Title After 23-Year Drouth

MOSCOW, Ida., March 2 (AP)—The University of Idaho's Vandals tonight captured their first northern division Pacific coast conference basketball title in 23 years by defeating Washington State 37 to 33 while Oregon was knocking Oregon State out of a first-place tie.

Free throws missed: Wash. St., Chezik, Ryan 2, Arndt, Idaho, Wilson, Elliott 2, Purnell, Pyne. Halftime score: Idaho 21, Washington State 16.

First team in division history to win an undisputed championship with as many as the defeats, the "Iron man" Vandals will meet the University of California at Berkeley March 8, 9 and 11 for the coast title.

The University of Oregon, which earlier this week dropped Idaho back into a tie with Oregon State, gave the Vandals the title with a 42 to 41 overtime win over the Beavers.

Idaho officials said the Vandals would leave Tuesday night for the California playoffs.

The Vandals were never headed after the first three minutes, but they "froze" the ball through most of the last seven minutes to keep the rampaging Cougars at bay.

Bob Elliott scored first for Washington State, but Grant Mortenson's field goal and foul put Idaho in a lead it never lost. Midway in the first half the Cougars moved up to a 9-11 deficit after trailing 2 to 3. Center Jack Phoenix and Arndt and Fred Quinn retaliated for Idaho, moving the Vandals ahead 16 to 10 with four minutes left in the period.

Gene Stevenson, Vince Hanson and Ray Arndt led a Cougar rally which narrowed the margin to 22-16, but Mortenson's last minute field goal gave the Vandals a 24 to 16 halftime lead.

The teams matched baskets for the first three minutes of the second half, then the Cougars started scrapping. Elliott and Evitt narrowed the margin to 27 to 25 in two minutes. Len Pyne and Mortenson bounced Idaho back into a 31-25 lead. Another Cougar rally cut Idaho's lead to 33-30 with nine minutes played, and with seven minutes to play the tally stood 34 to 32.

Then Idaho stalled. The Vandals' only scoring for the rest of the game came on three free throws. Bayless scored one gift toss for WSC and Elliott hit a field goal just before the gun, but a Cougar rally never could quite develop.

Demos Select Allison, Rap Liquor Setup

BOISE, March 2 (AP) — Present state liquor laws were condemned by the Young Democrats of Idaho today at their first convention since 1941. Kermit Allison of Filer, operator of a feed and potato business in Twin Falls county, was elected president for the next two years, succeeding Dan Hoopes of Rexburg.

Allison declared on assuming the president's post that "an effort has been made to associate me with one faction or another of the Democratic party."

Allison said "I want it known that I am for the Democratic party as a whole and I believe there is room in the party for everyone. We must concentrate our efforts in electing a full Democratic ticket next fall and not spend our strength fighting among ourselves."

Adopted were resolutions that:

Condemned the present state liquor laws as being inadequate, and asked that measures be adopted to give better regulation.

Favored teachers retirement laws as well as an increased appropriation for teacher salary raises.

Recommended that noncommissioned service men receive terminal leave on termination of service.

Favored an appropriation to enable organization of a state department of labor and statistics.

Grain Price Lid Boosted Monday

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Ceiling prices on grains will be raised Monday, the department of agriculture said today, as part of a program to adjust livestock feeding to the reduced supplies of grains and to encourage prompt marketing of supplies.

Effective Monday, March 4, the ceiling prices for grains will be raised as follows:

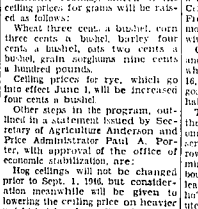

Wheat three cents a bushel, corn three cents a bushel, oats two cents a bushel, grain sorghums nine cents a hundred pounds.

Ceiling prices for rye, which go into effect June 1, will be increased four cents a bushel.

Other steps in the program, outlined in a statement issued by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Price Administrator Paul A. Porter, with approval of the office of economic stabilization, are:

Hog ceilings will not be changed prior to Sept. 1, 1946, but consideration meanwhile will be given to lowering the ceiling price on heavier weight butcher hogs after that date. Consideration also will be given to lowering the subsidy on heavier hogs before Sept. 1.

The subsidy of 50 cents per 100 pounds now paid cattle feeders for certain types of animals will be ended June 30.

40-Hour Working Week Suggested

SALT LAKE CITY, March 2 (AP)—American industry must return to the 40-hour week or 6,000,000 men will be out of jobs by spring, Reid Robinson, president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, CIO, declared today.

Robinson, here from Chicago to confer with locals involved in a strike with three smelting companies, told a newspaper reporter employers are sticking to the wartime 48-hour week because they are afraid wage increase demands will follow a curtailment of "take-home pay."

$3,750 Given To Red Cross

At the close of its second day yesterday, the Red Cross fund-raising drive had given to headquarters $3,750, H. O. Lauterbach, chapter drive chairman, announced.

Goal of the chapter is $20,500.

The bulk of the donations were solicited by the Llons club which is covering the city's business and industrial districts.

"Everything is going very satisfactorily," Lauterbach said.

U.S. Help Sought in Iran Row

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, March 2 (AP) Prince Firouz, political undersecretary of state, declared today Soviet troops were standing in troubled areas of Iran as a "friendly gesture" to the Tehran government, but nationalist deputies charged the Russians with aggression and appealed for American aid.

A foreign ministry official said rightist deputies were "conspiring" in an attempt to overthrow the Iranian cabinet over the new development.

Aggression Asked

The statements followed a secret parliamentary session which discussed Moscow's decision to make only a partial withdrawal of Russian forces by today's deadline for evacuation of all foreign troops. One deputy said the delay was an "act of aggression."

Firouz—whom some deputies criticized for "wild observations"—said the Russians were staying in Azerbaijan province because there was no representative there of the Tehran government to accept the Soviet installation.

He said the Russians could not turn over the properties to the local self-proclaimed autonomists. Azerbaijan government "cannot recognize that government" and so were staying until the central government was settled. He termed this a "friendly gesture" to Premier Ahmed Qavam in Saturday's administration shake-up.

Threat Seen

But strongly nationalist deputies declared the Russian failure to keep their word was a threat toward another world war which may be averted only by an immediate shift in Russian strategy of foreign policy by the United States.

Under the terms of a British-Russian-American agreement all foreign troops were to have been withdrawn from Iran today. Russia announced yesterday, however, that Soviet troops would remain in "disturbed" areas of Iran until the clearance of the situation.

Firouz, who is director of propaganda, said Soviet troops certainly will quit Azerbaijan—just as today they are leaving Semnan, Meshed and Shahrud.

(Moscow said yesterday that withdrawal from these eastern areas would begin today.)

UNO Delegate Urges Strong Soviet Policy

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Senator Connally, D., Tex., joining the growing list of American officials advocating a policy of firm dealings with Russia, said today he believed the Soviet should withdraw all its troops from Iran.

Connally, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, made his observation at a news conference in response to a question. He commented that reports were conflicting on whether Russia was withdrawing all its troops.

Both of the Texan said his idea of the way to get along with the Soviets is not to say to them: "We're against you."

"We should take a position that we know is right and stand there," Connally declared. "We should meet them on any issue and decide questions then and act on them."

Praising the administration's foreign policy as "firm and consistent," the senator further said he is in agreement with the views expressed by Secretary of State Byrnes Thursday in an address to Russian moves. Byrnes called for a "stop to this maneuvering for strategic advantages all over the world."

Connally, just back from the United Nations meeting in London, said he had not had time yet to read the week's speech in which Senator Vandenberg, R., Mich., called for greater firmness by this country in dealing with Russia. Vandenberg indicated he thought administration foreign policy was not as consistent as it might have been.

18,261 Acres Now Signed for Beets

Ranchers in the Twin Falls-Burley-Rupert areas have contracted to plant 18,261 acres of beets this year and the Amalgamated Sugar company will continue to execute contracts for the next 10 days, Harry Elcock, district manager, announced Saturday.

He said that the acreage contracted "far exceeds" that planted in 1945 and reported that the labor picture was considerably brighter at this time.

Execution of a contract between the American and Mexican governments for importation of Mexican nationals this season will likely be signed within the next few days, Elcock predicted.

German prisoners of war will also be available, he added.

Idaho Lawmakers Aim for Mid-Week Adjournment; Only 3 Measures Lacking

By FRANK W. PITMAN

BOISE, March 2 (AP)—The special session of the Idaho legislature finished its first week today in a flurry of action as Republican and Democratic leaders pointed for adjournment by the middle of the coming week.

At week's end legislation had been passed or introduced that would fulfill all but three of the requests in Gov. Arnold Williams' proclamation for the extraordinary session.

Lacking were measures to increase old age pensions, expand the state police force and increase state income tax exemptions. In a surprise move today, Rep. A. R. McCabe, D., Benewah, minority floor leader, withdrew a bill to raise the income tax exemptions. He declared "a substitute may or may not be introduced."

The major bill before the legislature—a measure providing retirement benefits for 4,600 Idaho teachers—was past the halfway mark, having moved into the senate after house passage Friday, 55 to 1. The Republican-sponsored bill appeared headed for quick approval in the senate.

Bill Reintroduced

Another measure designed to alleviate a critical teacher shortage, a principal reason for the call, was introduced in the house today by the Democrat-controlled revenue and taxation committee after being withdrawn Friday for revision. It would appropriate $90 000 for the 1946-47 school year only to provide a minimum salary of $1,400 per school year for elementary teachers and $1,700 for high school teachers.

Both houses acted swiftly today in passing 10 bills—two of which went to the governor's desk—before adjourning at noon for the weekend.

Gooding Approved

With only one negative vote, the senate passed and sent to the house a bill to appropriate $72,432 for activation of the state tuberculosis hospital at Gooding. Idaho Medical association leaders have recommended that the hospital be "abandoned." Sens. F. L. Manwill, R., Lincoln, and Carl E. Brown, D., Valley, patred on the roll call listing 40 ayes.

The other three senate-approved bills sent to the house today would appropriate $265,000 for a heating plant at the University of Idaho southern branch, Pocatello; $80,000 for a girls cottage at the school for the deaf and blind, Gooding; $50,000 for boys cottage at the industrial training school, St. Anthony; $28,134 for operational expenses at the

Anti-TB Unit Attacked for Hospital Plan

GOODING, March 2—The Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis association executive committee was given two verbal raps tonight for "dipping its hands in politics" when A. F. James, former Gooding mayor, and Dr. J. H. Cromwell derailed the committee's motion to establish a tuberculosis hospital at Twin Falls instead of Gooding. The executive committee recommendation was announced at Boise by Secretary Frances Goodwin.

James said the movement, although voted down by the state senators, gave the impression that Twin Falls was fighting Gooding for the location.

"In Gooding we know better," James said. "The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce gave us a unanimous vote of approval. Frankly I'm surprised Mayor Bert A. Sweet of Twin Falls recommended this city for the site."

Dr. Cromwell said the Anti-Tuberculosis executive committee was composed of eight members, seven of whom were from Boise. He blasted a "small bunch of women" for attempting to stop the Gooding project, while Gooding offered the group "throwing your grapes" on Gooding's plans for the hospital after they learned Boise had no chance to consummate the bid.

Both James and Dr. Cromwell said they had little doubt as to the final victory for the hospital on the hospital site, but expressed doubt as to the authority of the Anti-Tuberculosis association for "playing politics" with finances derived from charity.

When asked Saturday night by the Times-News if either would investigate the association's action, neither James nor Dr. Cromwell would offer an immediate statement.

Three Booked After Wreck; 4 in Hospital

Three young men were booked on drunken driving charges at 12:25 a. m. today (Sunday) and four persons were treated at Twin Falls county general hospital following a wreck which blocked traffic on U. S. highway No. 30 within the city limits.

City police records listed the men held to answer drunken driving charges as Harold V. Higginbotham, Luther E. Sharp and Kenneth Omar Sharp.

Hospital records listed the wreck victims as Rosalie Francen, 17, Buhl; Gilbert Craft, and Calvert Craft, both of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Kenneth Sharp.

One witness reported that a machine, a 1939 Lincoln, careened around Truck lane onto Addison avenue west, and sideways as the driver apparently lost control, struck the highway department sign and then smashed into a power pole with terrific force.

Police investigation had not been completed early Sunday morning, and no official report of the accident had been compiled.

Police said a total of three persons would face the drunken driving charge, indicating at least one other car had become involved by ramming another machine at the scene of the accident.

Extent of the trash victims' injuries was not determined at 1:25 a. m. today (Sunday).

Triumph Miners Call Walkout for Monday

HAILEY, March 2—A strike of 175 miners at Triumph lead and zinc mine has been called for Monday morning at 8 a. m., Tom Taylor, member of the CIO negotiation committee for Mine, Mills and Smelter Workers, said here today.

A. H. shoemaker, manager of the mine, told the Times-News tonight he understood a strike vote would be taken Sunday but that he had no official word to make a statement.

Taylor, however, said the strike vote was taken Saturday afternoon with a three-to-one majority" in favor of a walkout for a wage scale comparable to the "Coeur d'Alene rates of $8.25 to $9.25 per day."

Present wage rates at the mine, Taylor said, are $7.65.

The mine is one of the largest in Idaho outside of the Wallace-Kellogg area.

Charles Spettiles, president of the union at the Triumph mine, could not be contacted for a statement.

Taylor said he expected that if the strike would tie up any other mining operations in the state.

Vets Village Site Selected For 30 Units

Thirty new housing units allotted Twin Falls by the federal public housing authority recently will be set up on the Village site at Washington courts, Mayor Bert A. Sweet said Saturday following a conference here with federal officials and local businessmen at city hall.

The American Legion will take over operation of the units that will provide housing for approximately 120 persons.

Ex-servicemen and their families will have exclusive occupancy rights, U. N. Terry, commander of the Twin Falls post of the Legion, announced. He said that he had about 120 persons on a waiting list at this time and that erection of the new structures here would go far in alleviating the housing shortage.

Terry Wilkinson, project planner from the regional FPHA, Seattle, told the conference that the units would be moved in and ready for occupancy within 90 days after final approval of lease agreements in Seattle.

Councilmen will adopt a resolu-

Vet Comes Back 10 Years Later, Pays Off Check

The snipping of three pair of shears was silenced for only a moment Saturday afternoon at Perrine barber shop when a customer paid for his haircut and then offered owner Charles Russell an extra 25c for a "bum check" he had cashed.

Russell said he couldn't remember any bum checks.

The newly shaved customer still held out the $3.

"Don't you remember? It was about 10 years ago. You had a shop on Main street then."

Russell remembered. The customer since had gone through the European war and had been wounded twice.

Three pair of shears paused again for a moment, then continued their rhythmic action as the customer, after 10 years' absence, paid his debt and walked out cheerfully.

Bill Proposes [illegible] Vets' Houses

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A proposal to subsidize veterans in their purchase of homes got organized property-owners' support tonight as President Truman's "cold" housing plan faced congressional emasculation.

Administration leaders toiled in the week-end hours to round up house support for price ceilings on all houses and $500,000,000 in subsidies for building supplies, but the tide seemed to be running for a measure by Rep. Wolcott, R., Mich., which lacks those devices.

The Home and Property Owners of America, group sponsored by the Real Estate Foundation, Washington, issued a statement endorsing the Wolcott measure and to the veteran" in place of the White House program.

Such a measure, calling for outright grants of $500 to $2,500, based on length of military service, was introduced yesterday by Reps. Hartley, R., N. J., and Peterson, D., Fla.

The housing crisis meanwhile produced these two additional developments:

The labor department reported an "encouraging" start toward the President's goal of 1,200,000 new homes this year. About 37,900 new city dwellings were started in January, five times the total started in January a year ago.

The Producers' Council, Inc., made up of building materials manufacturers, announced its "full support" of a commerce department drive to alter outdated city and state building codes which retard new construction.

ENTRANCE

LOS ANGELES, March 2 — One way to get into a bank after hours:

Drive your car through the front door.

Modified police are trying to determine who drove through the front door of a Carthay Circle bank. The unmistakable evidence was there, skid marks and a shattered door. But no car was to be found.

Another baffling fact confronting the police was the failure of the crash to set off the burglar alarms.

TRAPPED

CHICAGO, March 2—Four police squad cars rushed to the Wabash railroad freight house after receiving a report that two railroad detectives had trapped burglars in an elevator by turning off the power when it was between floors. They explained that while searching the building for burglars they had been trapped in the elevator, and they believed the thieves were the perpetrators of the act.

GI Faints As He's Acquitted

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2 (AP)—S. Sgt. Frank Hirt was acquitted tonight of all charges that he conspired to commit espionage for Germany. Hirt fainted when the verdict of the 11-man court martial was read. The court martial deliberated five hours.

The prosecution had contended the young air corps sergeant had been schooled in Germany in the use of secret inks, had received arms, and addresses of conspirators, and money with which to operate.

The defense argued that any cooperation Hirt had given Germany while he lived there was involuntary, and that he had joined the army unwillingly after pleas from his grandmother.

Hirt was tried at Hamilton field, army airbase north of San Francisco.

Pauley Ready With Defense Against Ickes

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley was reported today to be assembling documents for a thorough-going attempt to refute the charges that have been leveled against him in connection with his nomination as undersecretary of the navy.

The senate naval committee will resume hearings on the appointment Wednesday and Chairman Walsh, D., Mass., and Pauley will be at liberty to make the stand then if he desires. The nominee said he may do that, although he had planned previously to present his substantial only when all of the opposition testimony is in.

The committee is expected to reply in detail to charges made against him by Harold L. Ickes, former secretary of interior.

Ickes testified that Pauley approached him in 1944 with a suggestion that Democrats in campaign funds could be financed from interested oil men if the government would not press claims to tide-lands oil areas.

Wendell Ideal Spot to Place Capital, Say Wendell Women

Editor, Times-News:

Wendell may be a wee bit slow on the draw but the cards haven't been dealt yet and we think this is the ideal spot for the capital!

The quiet community life of Wendell is perfect for the studious, busy lives of the state senators and representatives to meet during the legislative sessions.

Wendell has been among the first in Idaho towns to step forth and branch out for the postwar era, and build up its business section with an eye to the future for a thriving business. Wendell boasts the largest turkey plant in the west, one of the largest honey plants, citizens of Wendell would be glad to furnish the governor turkeys . . . and little honey might not come well to sweeten up those politicians).

The town offers an active religious life to the people of its state affairs, and many of the church buildings are quite new and very attractive.

New businesses which have opened up in the late years are the enterprising Gates Brothers Machine shop, who employ a large staff of skilled workers, thus building up the community both in the business life and social life.

Wendell's one war plant has converted to peace time operations and is now setting up ready cut houses . . . yes, houses! No doubt they would be very glad to set up a governor's mansion! There will be 18 new houses put out in just a short period.

The merchants of Wendell offer one month's groceries for each employe of the state house, the best lines of grocery products, and the dry goods departments have been true to the citizens of the community by serving Wendell first.

St. Valentine's hospital operated by the Catholic sisters stands majestically on its beautifully landscaped grounds. It adds dignity, beauty and always a helping hand to the community and towns around.

For many years Wendell has been advertised as the "City of Trees" that alone is inspiring. One has to drive only the miles to view the beauty of scenic Snake river . . . and grand fishing! On the way is the Sand Springs ranch owned by Hy Berkowitz, a man who came out from New York and Reno a few years ago and purchased the ranch . . . and this small Magic Valley community captured him and he has stayed on enjoying the country life, the western air, the beauty of his surroundings and the people.

Three weeks ago the Ace theater opened in Wendell to offer to the social life of the town the most modern theater this side of Salt Lake City. (After a heated session in the senate . . . step over to the comfort of the theater and relax). For the convenience of the bachelors we can offer too, a new and up-to-date hotel, which isn't a year old yet.

And Peterson's barber shop will give the governor his first hair cut if the capital is moved here.

All in all Wendell offers an attractive, choice spot for the state capital and we women of the Democratic Study club make our bid and hand out an invitation!

If Britain Doesn't Repay, Taxpayer Stands the Load

Editor, Times-News:

The American people have been encouraged to live beyond their means since 1930 and some seem to think of it as a normal healthy condition. But it is far from that. Now the American people are taking of paying interest on big debts and loaning money to England without interest for some years and then two per cent and no security.

We are told the treasury will make this loan but of course if it isn't repaid, the good little American taxpayer will stand the loss as usual. England already owes more than 4 billion dollars on the last loan we made her. Also a lot of European disciples of Karl Marx are calling on the United States Santa Claus for loans probably without security and the granting of which will probably seriously strain American finances later on.

I could not borrow money on such terms as an American citizen and taxpayer. Why not let the private bankers make such loans with some security? Do we have to go to foreign countries to get to spend our own money?

We need a conservative congress in November and a conservative President in 1948 who will protect all the people, including the investor and businessman, and not just part of the people, and who will encourage the small business man to go into new business and thus keep men at work.

Americans may lose their priceless system of free enterprise in the next depression through great hardship and confusion, but a word to the greedy who want to redistribute the wealth to a greater extent may not be sufficient.

He Says Gooding May As Well Go For U. S. Capital

Editor, Times-News:

It seems to me we are too modest here in Gooding in our desires to bring the state capital here.

That is a grand idea if we can, but why stop at a little thing like that? Why not bring the national capital here from Washington? Then we would really have something. Then we might move Buckingham palace over from London. To quote the Hoosier Schoolmaster, "When you're getting, get aplenty."

Of course, this is all absurd, but no more than moving the state capital and is just as likely to be done. This all comes from the controversy over the tuberculosis hospital, which is hard to understand.

Some time ago there was a move to make a general hospital of the same building. That was opposed very much by the same ones that now want a tuberculosis hospital. Why? Anyone is likely to go to a general hospital at some time. Very few expect to go to a tuberculosis hospital ever.

So it can't be for the good of the public or because it is urgently needed. No, it must be some business end or some financial proposition that my puny brain can't comprehend, for it really looks screwy to me.

Sun Valley and Tourists Are Idaho Blight to This Reader

Editor, Times-News:

If I'm not being presumptuous may I use your column for a moment please? I've a private beef which I'd very much like to air and discover through your column if I'm alone or if others are with me.

The beef? Sun Valley and tourists in the Big Wood river, Silver creek, Little Wood river and surrounding territories.

Reminiscing I find there was a glorious time, before the advent of Sun Valley and out-of-state tourists, for all sportsmen. And it was to be had right here in this area like no other place on earth.

Deer abounded in the hills around Hailey and Ketchum and Carey and even around Picabo. Sagehens migrated from the desert at evening into Picabo in swarms and when I say swarms I mean thousands.

Great flocks of these grey birds would literally obliterate a whole forty acre field. Pheasants? Yes, there were enough locally here so we didn't need to go to Richfield or Jerome for a bit of shooting as we do now. Ducks? The sky was darkened in the evenings with long, ragged wedges of them sweeping across from horizon to horizon.

Fish? Why man! Your limit was to be had by simply remaining at one hole for the approximate time of two hours and that by weight or number. And most memorable of all was—people—yes, people. We had real people here then, not the conceited tribe of jackasses that have swarmed to this area like magpies to a carcass.

People then were all for one and one for all and a good time was had by all. Old Bill at the store was "Bill." Mister this and Mister that is the rule now. Mister, huh. And why? Because everyone is trying to live up (or down) to the precedent set by Sun Valley visitors.

Clark Gable and Gary Cooper visited this dinky town last fall. One of the girl store clerks nearly fainted, because she supposed that that was the proper greeting, maybe they spend money sure, but all those people from other cities leave behind them a ragged trail of bewildered folks. We have just as big time racketeers, gamblers, whisky vendors and red light people here now as has any big city in the east and we can't cope with it. We've lost our dignity, our bearing, our friendships, our virtues, our peace. Let that pledge of conservation include conservation of Honor. Let it read:

"I pledge to live moderately and protect wisely all America's natural resources of water, soil, forests, minerals, wildlife, and uphold the honor of its people for posterity."

I'm going to catch hell from some around here but I'm too tired of it to care. Let's hear from others to me personally or through this column.

Yours in fear,
EMERY C. BESS

THE NEWSPRINT PROBLEM

Newspaper readers may wonder why the country is faced with a newsprint shortage. Some have even doubted that a shortage actually exists. So an explanation might be in order.

For a good many years, even before the war, the paper mills have contended there was little profit in the manufacture of newsprint. For this reason they have hesitated to expand their newsprint production facilities.

Many of the smaller mills have discontinued entirely the production of newsprint. They have gone into the more profitable "silck" paper business, which explains why machines having less difficulty in securing paper supplies than are the newspapers.

In normal times many metropolitan newspapers imported their newsprint from Sweden. With this source of supply cut off during the war and not yet re-established, the demand on mills producing newsprint is even more pronounced.

Strikes among timber and mill workers have contributed to the problem, but are not entirely responsible for the newsprint shortage by any means.

Indications are that all American newspapers will be confronted with a shortage of newsprint during the remainder of 1946, and there is no definite assurance of any solution by the end of the year.

It has presented a problem far more serious than most newspaper readers realize. Millions of dollars' worth of newspaper advertising has been turned down for lack of space. Newspapers have been forced to place limitations on the number of subscribers they could serve. And many features and services have been curtailed.

Even though their readers may not always realize it, the American newspapers have been doing a commendable job in adjusting themselves to the fluctuating problems arising from the newsprint shortage which ranges all the way from 15 to 20 per cent below normal, depending on changing conditions in different localities.

The Times-News, together with several thousand other daily newspapers in the United States, is naturally hoping sufficient newsprint will again become available, so this newspaper can grow and expand in keeping with its potentialities.

PARKING METERS

Twin Falls has talked parking meters for a number of years, but not until now has it finally decided to give them a trial as a means of relieving traffic congestion in the business district.

There are arguments for and against parking meters, but inasmuch as all other attempts to solve our downtown traffic problem have failed, it will be interesting to know if meters will bring about a solution. And the only way we can find out is to give them a trial.

The city will go to no expense in having the meters installed and no commitments will be made beyond the six-months trial period. After the meters have been given a tryout, the people of Twin Falls and vicinity will know whether they approve of such parking devices, and the city officials can act accordingly.

One of the reasons advanced for the downtown parking problem is that the personnel of business establishments is monopolizing available parking spaces. Residents driving downtown or farmers coming into the city find it almost impossible to park their cars. The time and gasoline they waste, coupled with all the inconvenience, raise the question as to whether the small charge exacted by parking meters would not actually prove a saving all around.

If meters will make more parking spaces available by keeping cars on the move at more frequent intervals, as the manufacturers claim they will, that will be a big accomplishment in itself.

In any event, it's worth a trial, and no one is going to be put to any appreciable expense during the trial period. Irrespective of what our first impression of parking meters may be, let's hope they do the trick, because sooner or later Twin Falls must find some way of relieving its downtown congestion.

READ AND HEED

Even more important than the punishment of German war criminals is the evidence, being produced at the trial, against the German people as a whole. It has become unescapably clear that the horrors described could not have continued so long, on so vast a scale, if the German people as a whole had not been morally blind and unstable.

We want our boys home and out of uniform. We do not want to send more new soldiers across than is necessary, to replace them. But the war criminal trial proves that we dare not weaken the occupation until we are assured—utterly—that Germany can never again start another wanton, conscienceless, inhuman blitzkrieg against the world.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

PROMISES—Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan has told friends that he is not in the least worried over the prospects of a victory in the 1948 presidential election, whether President Truman runs or not. It is understood that the chief executive shares that sentiment, and that his own analysis of political futurities is the inspiration for his campaign manner's observations.

Ray Tarbor

It is the Truman-Hannegan belief that their present difficulties—the Ickes resignation, the stench of the Pauley-Vardaman-Allen nominations, the strikes, the unpleasantness with Russia in every dangerous world spot — will be completely dwarfed by the unprecedented prosperity which the American people will be enjoying two years hence.

The Democratic reelection slogan in 1948, no matter who the candidate, will bear a strange resemblance to Herbert Hoover's 1928 cry of "chickens in every pot and two cars in every garage." Only difference will be that circumstances alone may enable them to make good on such golden promises.

WAITING—The Democrats rely on two fundamental economic factors for future success at the polls—the unprecedented potentialities of industry as demonstrated during the war and, despite attrition of V-J day, the unusually large field plans to insure plenty of money in the hand should existing supply run short.

It is estimated that total savings of all kinds—bank deposits, life insurance accounts, money in circulation, federal and private securities—amount to approximately $175,000,000,000.

That sum is three times as great as the total at the start of the war in September, 1939, and the increase is the greatest for any comparable period in our history. A large percentage of this hoarded money is merely awaiting the moment when it can go to market.

EXPENDITURES—Within the next two years—or before the 1948 presidential election—the government will pour at least twenty-five billion into the financial system. These funds will consist of proposed expenditures for the Wyatt housing program, the flood control and river-and-harbor program, national defense, veterans' payments, etc.

Principal problem now is to turn out sufficient goods to satisfy this moneyed market. White House politico-economists believe, now that the major strikes seem on their way to settlement, that new levels of peacetime production can be attained by November of this year.

Their new wage-price schedule is designed to "hold the line" against a general inflation until that moment arrives. By that time they expect to have achieved a balance between production and purchasing power.

Then, according to the Truman-Hannegan prophets, "We will go to town."

FIGHT—House-Senate Republicans are shaping a fight against another isolationist Truman commission that may yet produce sensational disclosures in the wartime construction of our vast merchant marine fleet. They have temporarily blocked the appointment of Rear Adm. E. W. Mills as chairman of the maritime commission.

Under the law this agency is required to be maintained as a bipartisan organization—three Democrats and two Republicans, or vice versa. When Admiral Emory S. Land, former chairman, and Adm. Howard W. Vickery quit the first of the year, three Democrats remained. Both Land and Vickery were Republicans, and their vacancies must be filled by men of that party.

Admiral Land, however, who still hopes to keep his hand on the agency's rudder, persuaded President Truman to nominate Admiral Mills, a veteran incumbent of the positions. The admiral happens to be an Arkansas Democrat.

Meanwhile, the efforts of certain naval men to force the removal of Commissioner John W. Carmody, thus providing a vacant Democratic seat, failed. He is regarded as an extremely able member of the body.

CONTROL—When a resolution was introduced in the house permitting Admiral Mills to retain his naval status during his service on maritime, Rep. W. Sterling Cole of New York added an amendment that passed by an overwhelming majority. It provided that the exemption to Mills would not apply unless President Truman preserved the bipartisan character of the board.

It is the congressional suspicion that the naval clique seeks to retain a close control of maritime during the liquidation of the vast fleet built during the war. The M. Cs think that it should now pass under civilian rule.

Incidentally, numerous charges of extravagance favoritism and waste on the commission's part are now under investigation by Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren, Gen. George D. Aiken of Vermont and the house maritime commission.

SECRET—President Truman's principal reason for naming Commodore J. K. Vardaman, former shoe manufacturer and now White House naval attache, to the federal reserve board is his desire to know what goes on behind the doors of this financial and monetary agency. Gov. Marriner S. Eccles operated it as a sort of secret society all through the Roosevelt administrations.

Despite his alleged lack of qualifications, the man from St. Louis will be welcomed by Governor Eccles. He thinks that he can keep in touch with what goes on in the White House through Commodore Vardaman!

VIEWS OF OTHERS

LIGHT 'DARK BREAD'

The cries of anguish raised because we are going to have to eat more "dark bread," to help feed Europe's starving millions, are somewhat premature. Use of a higher percentage of the wheat kernel may occasion some problems for bakers, but it shouldn't greatly inconvenience consumers, some of whom have used graham and wholewheat products all the while.

While flours have high starch content and the dark flours may have to be "raised" by different methods. One of our contemporaries, discussing the subject, says:

Progressive whitening of flour seems to be due to fancy tastes. Only lately, Champion breadmakers, proud of the whiteness of their loaves at the county fair, probably were catered to by the millers. Whatever the motive, as flour became whiter, some dietary axioms expressed alarm and "health breads" were offered. These usually depend for merit on higher percentage of the wheat kernel. Dr. Sylvester Graham 100 years ago was a pioneer in this field.

The "black bread" of the European peasant is a different thing altogether. It gets its color not from high percentage of wheat kernel, of which it probably contains none at all, but from use of other grains.

This confusion of Europe's "black bread" with the "dark bread" decreed here is probably the root of some of the protests. Health authorities lend assurance that no one is going to suffer by eating "dark bread"; that it is lighter than the graham that has been on the market all the while.—Reno Gazette.

A THOUGHT ABOUT EGGS

Two facts and a probability which should be considered together:

The probability—Had the British people failed to hold the line against fascism, the United States would not now be at peace.

Fact No. 1—The British people recently learned that they must do without powdered eggs, the backbone of their largely meatless diet, because their government cannot afford to buy eggs from the United States.

Fact No. 2—A huge surplus of eggs is building up in the United States, so large that prices are tumbling and OPA ceilings have had to be revised downward.—Chicago Sun.

DAILY DOZEN

Dear Potsie:

There ain't no justice. It seems that Mrs. Frank Maloney, formerly Lucille Tinker, looked at her waistline one day and decided to do some exercising.

Industriously she went to work doing ups and downs and tying herself into weird angles. Her son, Butch (alias Frank Maloney, Jr.) eyed his mother intently as she bent to do her daily dozen. Each day for about a week the two-year-old's blue eyes stunied his mom's efforts.

Several days later, mama Maloney stepped into the living room. She was startled to see her son throw himself on the floor and go through her exercise motions chortling "Hupperchs—Mamma, umperchs."

Incidentally his dad is a major in the air corps stationed in Calcutta, India.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Dear Pot Shots:

Early settling used to the comments on his potatoes that our Idaho license plates provoked, we got a thrill of prideful satisfaction in reading a sign at a Nevada junction, "Caliente, Salt Lake City, TWIN FALLS."

Then, driving away down in Arizona down Mexico way we found a photo of a Twin Falls citizen prominently centered on the front page of the Tombstone Epitaph, we appreciated the power and influence there is in the use of publicity. The photo was of Dudley Swim.

The mere mention of Twin Falls, Ida., brought a printer, one L. G. Beebe, from the backshop of that valiant sheet, defender of the "town too tough to die" despite the mortuary implications of its picturesque name.

He wished to relay fond remembrance to Ira H. Masters, a boon companion in newspaper adventures of early days in Idaho of whom he had last heard from Twin Falls. Further talk brought acquaintance with John Ross, a long time resident of Tombstone and brother of C. Ben Ross, governor of Idaho.

There is magic in the name Twin Falls, Ida., and the Magic Valley it serves.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

BOB HOPE

The clothing shortage is really getting bad out here. The only way you can get a suit these days is to run into a lawyer's car.

I went into a clothing store and said, "I'd like to see something with a herringbone." And the clerk brought out a herring!

Bob Hope

I won't say the clothing shortage is desperate, but the other night a guy showed up at the Mocambo wearing a white tie and blanket.

And the picture companies don't have enough material for costumes . . . But they're getting around it. They took one of Edward Arnold's old vests and made eight suits for Sinatra.

And one company didn't have enough material for a costume for Betty Grable, and they were afraid they'd get complaints. But they finally got enough material for Betty's costume . . . and they got complaints. But they ignored me.

Of course, they gave a little material with Charles Boyer's clothes. The way his lip hangs down, no one can tell whether or not he's wearing a necktie.

And they're even skimping on the material for sweaters those bobby sox girls wear. I saw one yesterday with a sweater that barely covered her ankles.

And W. C. Fields had some very bad luck. He managed to get four beautiful new polka-dot shirts. But then one morning he got up and smashed into the bureau drawer and all the polka-dots got bloodshot.

BURLEY, March 2 — Twin occur only once every 87 births, statistics show. But two sets of twins were born in Burley this week.

On Feb. 21, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Watterson were the parents of a boy and girl, and on Feb. 27, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stout also became the parents of a boy and girl.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

STAMFORD, Conn., an industrial and residential city in the region selected by the United Nations as the capital of the world, recently was honored by the revolutionists of the CIO-communist conspiracy. Following a long experiment in mob rule which found the mayor, Charles E. Moore, submissive and the police, under orders, recreant, the boss unionists called for a two-hour general strike and mob scene in the center of the city.

Wentworth Pegler

The Stamford Advocate, the only local newspaper, was likewise reluctant to insist on full preservation of order by lawful force in the presence of intimidation by imported organizers of mob terror. This indicated no sudden access of humane feeling in the Advocate whose habitual editorial policy might be summed up in the phrase "on the other hand."

It expressed, on the contrary, a character long familiar to the citizens who could have anticipated that in any crisis calling for courage their local paper would follow the example of those German and Italian papers which found that, after all, the brown shirts and black shirts, although perhaps overenthusiastic, were no doubt sincere and preferred submission to resistance.

In the days of the speed-up and opprobrious conditions in Stamford's large industries, the Advocate was preoccupied with news and jottings of the garden clubs and strawberry socials.

The mob which marshaled the Yale-Towne plant for weeks was violating several plain laws and with equal lack of right might have blockaded the home of Mr. Moore and the owners of the paper. Nevertheless, the mayor, in a long serpentine statement, took credit for preventing bloodshed on the ground that in enforcing the law his police might find it necessary to use force on members of the mob. To the suggestion that, meanwhile, he was neglecting his oath to enforce the rights of others, he replied that such enforcement would cause violence, which he was against.

Now, although this was not primarily a CIO strike it was nevertheless a CIO party and joyously exploited by the local and regional communists. These include a lawyer who once defended a communist charged with spitting on the stars and stripes.

Bridgeport, not far away, is the home of Sam Carp, a brother-in-law of Moloney, who got $200,000,000 or $100,000,000, he couldn't rightfully say which, through his family connections in the workers' paradise to spend on commotion in this country for war equipment, including a battleship. Various hostage and pawns in the outlying dells there exist, in summer, colonies of dilettante communist pamphleteers and other propagandists and the region is blanketed by a party-line paper practicing intimidation by filth so low that even the ineffable Carp, as he told the Dies committee, would not have it in his home lest it contaminate his children.

In the presence of such influences, Mr. Moore preferred moderation in dealing with the mob and, following Stamford's experimental general strike and "demonstration," the New York council of the CIO decided on a "demonstration" as a "protest" against the exercise of the legislative function by the United States congress. This was to have been a warning to the nation of the CIO's power to punish the whole people if congress should pass laws restricting it and rebuking its lawlessness. Later, for lack of courage, Philip Murray, the president of the CIO, called it off.

The leadership and management of the machinists strike at Yale-Towne in Stamford have been imported, not local, and the very nature of the demands and the mob-method of picketing proved that the organizers realize that, relieved of threats, force and fear, the people would soon return to work. The mayor has been upholding terrorists who make it dangerous for these workers to work and earn.

More recently, James Callahan, 60, a foreman at Yale-Towne, was horribly beaten by two thugs on his way to work and the Advocate published a picture of his distorted face accompanied by a statement from Mr. Moore that "violence is something we will not stand for." He was a little late.

One company executive reported that he had been threatened with death. Another executive reported that a window in his home had been smashed.

Concurrently, in New Canaan, nearby, a campaign of teamsters unions to eliminate independent small dairymen and throw their business to big corporate dairies had been carried on with ominous violence, including the slashing of tires of private cars as housewives drove to the dairy for milk for their families. Miller brothers, who run an uncommonly good dairy, were ordered to accept prohibitive raises and might not even be allowed to work in their own dairy. They couldn't even select their own employes. They had fewer than a dozen workers but 200 pickets enforced the terror.

Miller brothers said they were sorry to close and lose the business they had built by their hard work, and lose their money, too.

This was no "labor dispute." It was a terroristic invasion of a quiet New England town, infected from Stamford, by goons under license from politicians and professional union gangsters.

These are consequences of the timidity of local government and the press which, in Germany and Italy, flinched and appeased organized rioters and presently found itself in chains.

Car driven by the Rev. Harry J. Reynolds, 167 Harrison street, collided at the intersection with a ton and one-half truck driven by Thomas R. Gibbons, Jerome. Force of the collision caused the Rev. Mr. Reynolds car to swing around and ram a car driven by N. E. Prather, route 3, Twin Falls, who was waiting for a traffic signal.

This Barking Dog Caused Accident

Barking dogs may not bite, according to an old adage, but they can cause traffic accidents, Twin Falls police reasoned Saturday afternoon.

Tommy Newman, 14, Curry, was riding a bicycle in the street in front of 351 Fourth avenue west, where he lives.

A barking dog ran into the street, and the youth turned his wheel to avoid being nipped. He ran his bike into the path of a car driven by Asa A. Howard, route one, Twin Falls.

The bike was damaged in the collision. Police reported the boy uninjured.

Continue to Grow Food for Church Welfare, LDS Urged

Since church stockpiles have been depleted because of shipments of food to European needy, Twin Falls LDS stake members should continue to grow food donated for church welfare work, Elder Clifford Young, Salt Lake City, told a welfare meeting last night in the tabernacle.

This was during the stake quarterly conference. Elder Young, representing the general church authorities, is an assistant to the council of the Twelve Apostles. He replaced Elder Harold B. Lee, Salt Lake City, member of the quorum of the Twelve Apostles, who was unable to attend, said P. L. Lawrence, member of the stake presidency.

Attending the meeting were all stake and ward welfare workers.

Vets Readjustment

Following was a priesthood leadership meeting at which Elder Young said veterans' readjustment was the basic problem facing every church member. This matter was discussed by the group.

The speaker said also that although the church believed each member should "maintain his independence of character" and better himself, his fellow members stood ready to help him in time of need. Present were members of the Aaronic and Melchizedek priesthoods, including group leaders and advisers.

Unable to attend the conference was Elder Lee Palmer, Salt Lake City, assistant to the presiding bishopric of the church.

Sunday Meets

At 9 a. m. today a general priesthood meeting will be conducted for all members of the priesthood. At the same time a mothers and daughters meeting is to be held in the second ward chapel, directed by Mrs. Jay M. Merrill.

In the tabernacle at 10:30 a. m. the general session will begin and the public is invited. The session then is to adjourn for lunch and will reconvene at 2 p. m. The young people's organization will offer a program at 8 p. m., directed by Elden Stokes and Sarah Yates. During the priesthood meeting today the Aaronic priesthood boys will sing.

Singers and ward choirs will present hymns during the general session.

Spain Lashes Opposition to Franco Reign

MADRID, March 2 (AP) — The Spanish government, in an apparent reference to outside pressure against the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, asserted today that "new roads are offered from abroad" were only "unstable bridges to bloody communist chaos."

The statement, taken as a veiled reply to the United States note to France and Britain urging a joint declaration against Franco, was contained in a 2,000-word communique dealing with France's action in closing her frontier with Spain.

The communique asserted that the closing of the frontier and anti-Spanish demonstrations abroad constituted a plot by "international communism" aimed at dragging Spain "down into disorder and chaos."

Gooding's Demos Endorse Hospital

WENDELL, March 2 — The Democratic central committee of Gooding county at a recent meeting added its support to the request of Gooding citizens, including the mayor, Dr. F. E. Barrett, and former Mayor A. J. James, for an appropriation for the Gooding tuberculosis hospital from the state legislature now meeting in special session.

The committee branded the recent proposals of the state planning board and the Idaho Medical association committee, that a new TB hospital be built elsewhere at an estimated cost of $600,000 as a "waste of public funds when the state owns an equipped hospital at Gooding."

Walker Reelected Cattlemen Leader

GLENNS FERRY, March 2—Gilbert Walker was reelected president of Elmore Cattle association today at an annual banquet attended by 225 in the city hall.

Claude Campbell, Gooding, was elected vice-president; Alfred Johansen, Gooding; John Varin, Gooding and Arch Henderson, King Hill, were elected directors.

Dinner was served by LDS Relief society and a dance followed the business session. Out of town guests included Leon Weeks, Boise, secretary of Idaho Cattlemen's association and the state brand inspector, William Lasley, Boise, accompanied by Mrs. Lasley.

Weather Stripping And Caulking Are a Real Investment!

Perhaps you do not realize that the crack which runs around an ordinary window totals a space equal to the size of a common brick. In the average home this means a total open space equivalent to 22 bricks. You can imagine how much cold air, dust, smoke and moisture can pour through such an opening! All of this can be stopped by weather-stripping your doors and windows and caulking various unseen crevices.

Saves Fuel, Keeps Out Dust, Makes a Home More Comfortable

Weather-stripping and caulking are two important services in our weather-proofing department. We have all the modern equipment and materials it takes to do the job. We'll be glad to give you free estimates.

Towel Maker Charges OPA Limits Goods

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

WASHINGTON, March 2 (U.P.)—Now, my suffering compatriots, comes the worst: no towels.

We are going to climb from the tub with soap in our eyes, grope for the towel rack and connect with the tile wall. That's the cold truth from Cannon, of Kannapolis, N. C.

Is he the one who makes those bath towels?" demanded Chairman John H. Bankhead of the senate's whi - no shirts - sheets - towels-chawing - tobacco subcommittee.

He makes more bath towels than anybody else in the world," responded Sen. Clyde Hoey of N. C., only lawmaker who wears a Confederate uniform.

The towel maker turned out to be a small and dapper gentleman with a fringe of gray hair, a southern accent, a bow necktie, an ambition to dry the backs of the world and an unabiding hate for the OPA.

In one of America's greatest textile mills he makes towels for blotting dishes and people, sheets for humans and tobacco seedlings and materials for numerous commodities, including diapers.

He said the OPA with its price ceilings had made a shambles of all his enterprises, diapers included.

"Let us talk about diapers," he said. "There are necessary articles; the diaper industry always made more than enough until the OPA began issuing orders. The war is over and the babies of this country have fewer diapers than ever. This is serious.

"But what did one of these young fellows of Chester Bowles' tell me the OPA was going to do? He told me, yes he did, that the birth rate was going to fall. This would take care of the diaper problem, he said."

"Did he tell you," asked Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minn., "that the birth rate was going to fall upon order of the OPA?"

"Well, no, not exactly," Cannon replied. "He did not say specifically that this would be on OPA orders, but I got that impression."

The subject, as it nearly always does, got around to female legs and how to keep them covered. Cannon said there weren't enough nylons; he added that rayons get baggy around the knees and stretched at the ankles.

"They don't like 'em," he added.

"Who doesn't like 'em?" asked Senator Bankhead. "The ladies?"

"And the men, too, I guess," Cannon replied.

Having described at length the shortage of bath towels, Cannon returned to shirts, and more specifically to the blue one worn by Sen. Tom Stewart, Tenn.

"What would the cloth in his shirt cost?" inquired Sen. George D. Aiken, Vt.

"It is one of those bob-tailed shirts," Senator Stewart said.

"Then I would have to take him outside and examine him," Cannon replied.

"Well, I resent this inquiry into my private life," Senator Stewart insisted. Senator Aiken obtained from Cannon the estimate that Senator Stewart's shirt cost 50 cents per yard.

And now what would the cost be for a cheap shirt such as I can afford to wear?" Senator Aiken asked. Cannon examined the senator's shirt carefully. He estimated 13½ cents a yard. "Oh," Senator Aiken said.

As Empire Airlines' Maiden Flight Arrived

Twin Falls officially greeted the maiden flight of Empire Airlines at the airport here Friday afternoon. The larger concern has taken over Zimmerly Airlines. Left to right above, Ted Fischer, Empire station manager here; Bert Zimmerly, president of Empire and former president of Zimmerly, who piloted the plane; Junie Bauer, Empire office assistant here; Chic Crabtree, Junior Chamber of Commerce president; R. The first flight of Empire Airlines, Inc., which arrived at the Twin Falls airport Friday afternoon en route from Coeur d'Alene to Pocatello, was officially greeted by a welcoming committee of city and service club officials.

The 10-passenger Boeing 24-7D was piloted by Bert Zimmerly, president of the concern which recently purchased Zimmerly Airlines. Tom Crowson of Empire Airlines was also a passenger.

The welcoming committee included Mayor Bert A. Sweet, C. D. Hiatt, president of the Chamber of Commerce and member of the city airport commission, Chic Crabtree, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Junie Bauer, receptionist, and R. J. Schwendiman, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

Oratory Meet Date Changed

The American Legion oratorical contest, scheduled for Monday, will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the high school auditorium, W. W. Holmes, chairman, announced yesterday.

Eight high school students have been selected to participate in the final contest. They were chosen from 250 contestants.

The group includes Gerald Painter, Betty Alauret, Mary Barron, Ann Coleman, Carleen Robbins, Grace Kawai, Wesley Orten, all seniors, and Bill Watts, sophomore.

The prepared orations are on the subject, "The Constitution—Guardian of the People's Rights." Trophies will be presented to students placing first and second. Winner qualifies for the state event.

Judges for the contest include Chic Crabtree, Mrs. John Hayes, and Hugh C. Phillips. Dale Wakem will be timekeeper.

No Skiing

Because of the fact that 10 inches of snow is reported this side of the ski tow, there will be no skiing this week-end at Magic mountain.

He'll Build Addition

Amos E. Read made application Saturday for a building permit to erect a 24 by 32 foot two-room addition to a residence at 440 Filer avenue at a cost of $1,000.

Location of the new $8,600 W. I. McFarland residence will be at Addison avenue and Pierce street. Its dimensions will be 34 by 70 feet.

Today there are only about 52,000 aborigines left in Australia.

Roads in Soft Condition Now

Because of excessive moisture, roads throughout Idaho are in soft condition, the district highway office at Shoshone reported Saturday, and truck loads and speed limits have been imposed on two more highways in Magic Valley.

The limit of 350 pounds per tire inch was placed on state route No. 50, Twin Falls-Eden, and state route No. 25, Gooding-Rupert.

Winter conditions still prevail in the higher altitudes and motorists should exercise due caution, especially in early morning driving, ice conditions can develop over wide areas in a few hours, it was stated, and maintenance crews require some time to round all dangerous sections.

State route No. 22, Mountain Home-Fairfield, was listed as open and fair to Dixie, but local inquiry should be made for conditions between Dixie and Fairfield.

U. S. No. 93 is closed from the end of pavement nine miles north of Ketchum over Galena summit to Obsidian, with a snow floor from Obsidian to Stanley.

One divorce decree was filed in district court Saturday and seven were filed Friday.

Cassie Frazer was divorced from Kenneth Frazer whom she married Jan. 27, 1934 in Mount Pleasant, Ia., according to a Saturday decree. She charged cruelty and received custody of a daughter, 9, and son $30 monthly alimony, furniture and half-interest in a lot at 232 Monroe street. She and her daughter were permitted to occupy the family home.

Friday decrees follow:

Harriet Marie Hilton, charging mental cruelty, was awarded custody of a daughter, 11 months old, in her suit against Jack Edward Hilton, jr. They married at Kimberly, Sept. 26, 1942.

Ruth Frisch, suing on grounds of cruelty, was divorced from Stanley Frisch. The marriage occurred Nov. 5, 1942, at Coupeville, Wash. Her maiden name of Ruth Stewart was restored.

Pearl Bies, claiming cruelty in her suit against Clyde Brew, was awarded custody of five minor children, two sons, aged 17 and 13, two daughters, aged 15 and 3, and a child, 7, whose sex was unspecified in the petition. The couple wed April 28, 1928, at Brighton, Calif.

Alma McCowan was awarded custody of two daughters, aged 11 and four, following her suit on cruelty against Alonzo McCowan. The marriage took place Nov. 10, 1932, in Twin Falls.

Louise Bender Van Hook, charging Melvin Van Hook with cruelty, obtained a divorce. They married Nov. 29, 1941, at Elko, Nev.

John Wagoman, charging cruelty, was divorced from Charlotte Wageman. Her maiden name, Charlotte Dawson, was restored. They married at Blackfoot, July 29, 1939.

Erma Crook, suing Percy Crook on grounds of mental cruelty, was awarded $17.50 monthly for the support of two daughters. The marriage took place July 13, 1939, at Nelson, Neb.

state school and colony, Nampa, $10,000 operational expenses for state veterans' welfare commission.

One Bill Signed

The governor has signed only one bill, an appropriation of $25,000 for the session's expenses, but a half dozen or more will be on his desk Monday.

The governor's request for increased grants to needy aged and aid to dependent children is at the committee stage only but legislation may reach the floor Monday.

The senate public assistance committee headed by George A. Ambrose, R., Custer, has before it figures from the department of public assistance showing an additional appropriation of $832,217 would be necessary to increase the average old age grant 16.6 per cent to $37.86 and the average aid to dependent children grant 18.73 per cent to $23.92. In January there were 9,727 old age pensioners and 3,432 receiving dependent children aid.

Increases Asked

Williams asked increases to "equalize the increased cost of living." He said he had been informed living costs had gone up 10 to 20 per cent and declared a figure somewhere between might be selected for the raise.

There has been a notable lack of action on William's request for a $342,000 appropriation to expand the state police force and reestablish ports of entry to collect truck taxes and other fees. He asked for an increase to 50 in the present force of 15.

The first of two bills under preparation to provide additional highway construction funds was introduced in the house today by the revenue and taxation committee. It proposes to reduce to 10 per cent the present 15 per cent allocation of total income tax collections to the motor vehicle tax refund fund.

Funds Seen

Committee Chairman McCabe estimated the revision would give the highway department about $500,000 annually. T. Matt Hall, highway director, has placed his 1943 requirements at an additional $900,000 over funds on hand.

There was a possibility another bill would be introduced to direct an appropriate $500,000 from the state general fund to the highway department for matching with federal funds on highway construction.

A bill to legalize parimutuel betting on horse and other animal races was scheduled in the revenue and taxation committee where it was referred immediately after introduction Tuesday by Robert H. Mills, R., Boise, who said it would produce at least $1,000,000 annually in revenue.

Some legislators said it would "die" in committee. McCabe acknowledged earlier this week that his committee was "frowning on revenue measures." When asked about the parimutuel bill today McCabe remarked that "the committee is still frowning."

poration's wage offer would be prejudicial to their political position" when the UAW holds its convention in Atlantic City March 23.

Thomas accused Anderson of "seeking to cause a 'split in the union'" and called the statement "very much an over-simplification of the entire situation."

Obstacles Listed

Anderson said he believed the principal obstacles still present were the union's demand for a 10½ cents an hour hourly wage increase and the clause in the terminated contract governing transfers and promotions.

Meanwhile, the union announced that agreement had been reached with the Hudson Motorcar company, providing an 18½ cents hourly wage increase for 10,000 workers.

Norman Matthews, union spokesman at Detroit, said the agreement, effective as of March 5, was subject to ratification by union members.

The GM strikers' proposal came from the 250 delegates to the third Auto Workers national GM conference meeting in Detroit.

It provided that, if the General Motors accepted the offer, the decision of the President-appointed arbitrator "be final and binding upon both parties."

The UAW stipulated also that the arbitrator's decision be made as soon as possible, "but not later than 45 days from the day he is designated."

Housefly End Predicted for Idaho's Cities

By J. CLARENCE MOORE

SPOKANE March 2 (AP) — The doom of the housefly as a pest to man and a consequent reduction in the incidence of disease was predicted today by W. E. Shull, head of the department of entomology at the University of Idaho.

Shull says this will come about when the new insecticide, DDT, comes into general use.

The entomologist says several Idaho towns have cut down their fly populations through use of DDT and arbi.

"We who live in this state can soon say, 'we have no houseflies in Idaho.'"

Action Urged

He urges community action on fly control during the summer of 1946 and says that city organizations could well adopt the work as a major project. He predicts that concerted action against houseflies will cause a noticeable decline in infantile paralysis and similar disease.

Shull cites experiments conducted by the university.

Buildings of the university farm have been kept 99.9 per cent free of flies during the summer by just two applications of DDT.

The inside walls and screens were covered with a spray prepared from four pounds of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder in 100 gallons of water applied with a power spray at 400 pounds pressure. The spray gun was set as to give a very finely divided spray.

Treatment Effective

Manure piles, garbage cans and other fly-breeding grounds also cease to give off the disease-ridden pests when given similar treatment.

In other tests, university entomologists obtained "excellent results" by applying DDT in 100 dairies in Ada county of Idaho.

Shull says hand-spraying equipment "is not particularly good for DDT fly control, but if sufficient amounts of materials are applied, good results may be expected.

Gives Warning

David Brannen, Washington entomologist at Washington State college, issues a warning against using DDT indiscriminately on fruit and vegetable plants until more information is available.

Pointing out that DDT is a poison, he says it should not be applied after the edible portion on fruits and vegetables have formed.

In tests, he said, DDT has been found effective on pea weevil, pea aphids, potato flea beetles and green cabbage worms.

While it is effective against codling moth on apple and pear trees, new spray bulletins issued by Washington state college still recommend lead arsenate for the job because when DDT is used aphids, mites and woolly apple aphids continue to thrive in "serious numbers."

RUPERT, March 2 — Magic Valley will be assured an ample labor supply from the prisoner of war camp at Rupert for beet thinning, Col. Dott E. Smith, commanding officer, said today.

$2,500 Loss As Fire Wrecks Detweiler's Warehouse Here

Fire gutted the warehouse of Detweiler Brothers, Inc., 223 Third avenue west, early Saturday morning causing a loss of $2,500.

Claude N. Detweiler, president of the firm, said the loss was not covered by insurance.

Insulation materials were stored in the structure.

The blaze was discovered shortly after 1 a. m. by Ernest Christensen, Hazelton, who ran to the Times-News office where an alarm was turned in.

Cause of the blaze was not determined. Detweiler said reports reaching him said that the building was ablaze from end to end when it was discovered.

Firemen used three lines of hose to battle the flames and prevented the blaze from damaging farm equipment owned by the L. L. Langdon company that was stored next to the warehouse.

Streets in the area were plunged into darkness for a time because of a short circuit on a power pole half a block from the fire scene.

Firemen returned to the scene of the blaze at 5:20 p. m. Saturday to pour more water on some still smouldering embers in the gutted interior of the structure. No further damage resulted.

It was announced by Penson that new rest room facilities are now ready for use at the airport. Judd and Penson returned the PT-17 to the Idaho wing at Boise Friday. The plane was flown 25 hours by local pilots.

Elusive 'Star' Visible During Coming Week

By J. HUGH PRUETT

Astronomer, Extension Division, Oregon Higher Education System

The planet Mercury, so elusive that few have ever definitely sighted it, is again in the western twilight, and wherever the sky is clear may easily be observed during this coming week.

Only three times this year, and then for only a few evenings each time, can this little world be seen after sunset. The other two appearances, around July 5 and October 31, will be much more unfavorable than the present one, since then the planet will set before the sky is sufficiently darkened for satisfactory observation.

Mercury, highest in the sky at sunset March 8 and 9, will however, be easily visible a few days before those dates, and will be brighter earlier in the week. Although planets usually do not twinkle, yet when near the horizon Mercury very often does scintillate gently.

Mercury is the smallest and the nearest to the sun of any of the nine known planets. The little planet encircles the sun in 88 days as compared with our one year, and has a diameter approximately 3,000 as compared with the earth's 8,000. Because it is comparatively so near the sun, it is for most of the time lost in the brilliance of this central luminary. But at a few times it does appear far enough to one side to be sighted by earth-dwellers.

It seems fairly certain that Mercury keeps one side constantly turned toward the sun during its entire revolution, as does our moon during its monthly encirclement of the earth. As a result, this sunward side is intensely hot; the night side extremely frigid.

During this coming week Mercury will be setting almost due west about one and a half hours after the sun. Early in the week it will be a little less than this. When above the horizon, the little planet will be to the left of its setting direction. It will appear as a fairly bright star in the deepening twilight, and will be quite near the crescent moon the evening of March 4.

Since Venus, the most brilliant of all stars and planets, now is in the western twilight sky, it may possibly be of help to very clear-headed readers to describe below Mercury and in the same general direction. Later this spring Venus will be splendid.

DAR Organization

Daughters of the American Revolution of 12 chapters will gather for a state convention in Twin Falls March 21 and 22 at the Presbyterian church parlors.

Mrs. Wilbur S. Hill is general chairman and she will be assisted in arrangments by Mrs. R. R. Spafford, Mrs. Frank Brown, state chairman of advancement of American Music and Mrs. S. McCoy, regent of the Twin Falls chapter.

The Twin Falls chapter members discussed historical facts concerning the local group at a recent session.

It was noted that Nov. 15, 1916, 14 women met at the commercial club in Twin Falls with the late Mrs. Kennedy Packard as organization regent. Mrs. J. H. Seaver was appointed temporary chairman and Mrs. H. J. Youngs, secretary of the meeting. After the endorsement of the movement to form a chapter in Twin Falls, Mrs. Packard was elected chapter regent. She appointed the following officers: Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, secretary; Mrs. J. H. Seaver, registrar, Mrs. W. B. Amabury, treasurer and Mrs. David Brown, vice-regent.

At a meeting Jan. 9, 1917, it was reported that five members had completed their papers and others were in process. It was also noted that Mrs. Eldridge was a member of the Ethan Allen chapter in Middlebury, Vt., and her membership was accepted by transfer.

On March 10, 1917, the regent announced that 20 women, the number required to form a chapter, had completed their papers and the organization of a permanent chapter was founded. Members chose the name "Twin Falls chapter of the DAR."

Charter members are Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, Mrs. P. W. McRoberts, Mrs. A. J. Peavey, Mrs. J. H. Seaver and Mrs. W. L. Mikesell. Mrs. Charles Gregg and Mrs. Hugh Boone are daughters of charter members.

Officers were Mrs. Packard, regent; Mrs. David Brown, vice-regent; Mrs. Eldridge, secretary; Mrs. H. J. Youngs, treasurer and Mrs. Arthur K. Seaver, registrar.

The board of management consisted of the officers plus Mrs. J. R. Ault and Mrs. C. E. Munson.

On April 14 of that year at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Peavey, the chapter was formally recognized by the national society.

Members voted to become affiliated with the Red Cross and to assist in war work. In the succeeding year, knitting, food conservation and sewing for hospitals and refugees were carried out in addition to the regular Americanism program of DAR.

The first resolution of the group was supporting the furthering of the Lincoln highway and marking historical spots.

In September, 1924, the board of management purchased a bronze tablet on which the names of Twin Falls county boys who died in World war I were inscribed. The tablet was imbedded in a large native boulder and placed on the courthouse grounds between the courthouse and the high school. In 1925 the flagstaff was purchased and set beside the memorial.

The chapter began negotiations to acquire the old stage station known as "Desert Station" located two miles west and about three-fourths north of west five points and acquired it in May, 1929.

The county commissioners graveled the road to the spot. Plans were discussed for improvement and preservation. It consists of rocks unchanged and still lying in the form of a rough rectangle. The city accepted the site as a gift from the local chapter. The late W. H. Eldridge assisted the DAR chapter in technicalities involved in lineage.

RUPERT WINS CLASS A DISTRICT CAGE CROWN

Hays' Pirates Defeat Jerome Quintet, 45-31

By GEORGE F. REDMOND
(Times-News Sports Editor)

For 20 years—ever since the great Pirate team won the district and the state titles and went to Chicago to play in the University of Chicago's national tournament—Rupert has waited for a district basketball championship and it came last night, brought to that city by 10 speedy youngsters who overwhelmed all opposition in the tournament here that broke all records for interest and attendance.

The Pirates, in defeating Coach John Norby's Jerome Tigers, 45-31, in the final game before an overflow crowd, kept intact one of the most brilliant records compiled by any Magic Valley team—that of going through the season without losing to a quintet in this area and capturing the Big Seven conference title with 12 straight victories.

And, too, that record was not rung up by one or two sharp-shooting players, but by 16 players who coach George Hays fashioned into a squad that allowed the opposition no let-up. There were stars on the aggregation, to be sure, but the Pirates' greatness lay in the squad—not only in a five-man team.

Jerome's surge to the runner-up position was as unexpected as Rupert's triumph was expected. Although the Tigers finished down in the Big Seven race and then lost the services of one of its stars, Jud Paris, to the navy a few weeks before the tournament opened, Coach Norby brought his team up to its peak for the cage extravaganza.

Expected to be eliminated in the early rounds, the Tigers created upset after upset and last night—for a time—it looked like Norby had another in his kit.

The Tigers battled the Pirates to a standstill during the first quarter. They were the first to score and held the high-scoring Hays to a 7-5 count when the frame had ended. Then soon after the second quarter opened Capt. Fred Carlton came through with a 2nd shot and gave his team a 11-10 lead. But that was a last time they were in front. Curley Hays' sharp-shooting little ball-hawk, rang up a foul shot that tied the score and a moment later Friesen took a rebound that sent the Pirates singing to victory. The Tigers did get up to tie the score at 17-17 on Hortin's long shot from the side, but that only produced a flurry of Pirate scoring that saw Harvey Conlin lay in a pair of shots for baskets as the half ended with Rupert leading, 21-17.

Rupert finished the third quarter with a 33-24 lead and then near the end when Coach Hays cleared his bench of players to give them a chance in the title game, Rupert rang up four straight field goals in a matter of minutes.

Mendenhall and Culley, Rupert's two speedy forwards, who take turns in feeding each other, made 13 points each, while Conlin, who played great ball in the final game, rang up four field goals, Carlton, with four field goals and four fouls, all that he had, was the Jerome leader.

Trophies were presented following the game by Principal John D. Flatt, the tournament manager. Acceptances were made by Hays and Norby, who turned the trophies over to their captains, Glenn Goff and Fred Carlton, respectively.

And now these two teams no longer represent Rupert and Jerome alone, but all the Magic Valley in the state tournament at Pocatello next week.

Thousands of Fans Turned Away at District Tourney

The need of Twin Falls and the Magic Valley for a little Madison Square garden," or a building capable of housing its larger sports attractions, was emphatically demonstrated during the class A district basketball tournament, which came to an end last night.

Throughout the five days of the tournament, thousands of would-be spectators at the big event were turned away or were compelled to stand for one or more games at the Twin Falls high school gymnasium.

"I am confident that 5,000 fans would have attended every session of the tournament," Principal John D. Flatt, tournament manager, told the Times-News.

"But we didn't have the facilities and for that reason revenue that would have helped the treasuries of the participating schools wasn't forthcoming."

However, as it was the attendance broke all records for basketball tournaments in Idaho. Flatt said that approximately $6,400 was taken in.

This was $2,800 more than last year's gate, which also was a record.

So confident were the Rupert fans that their Pirates would win the district championship that they made arrangements for a banquet at the Park hotel early last week. More than 75 of them gathered there for the banquet and to congratulate Coach George Hays and his players and to listen to speeches by Hays, Mrs. Hayes, Al Gregory, Milton Hyde, Bruce Rogers, Mrs. Rogers, Dean Schofield, Mrs. Dan Slavin, Robert Herd, Gerald Stanley, Kenneth Stevens, Leon Craven, Art Tyree, Emory Carson, Ward "Spud" Woolford and Art Dixon. Don Dafoe, Rupert's popular superintendent of schools, was master of ceremonies.

Exactly 29 years ago Rupert won the district championship, went on to capture the state laurels and finally traveled to Chicago to play for the national crown. On that team was a player named Milton Hyde.

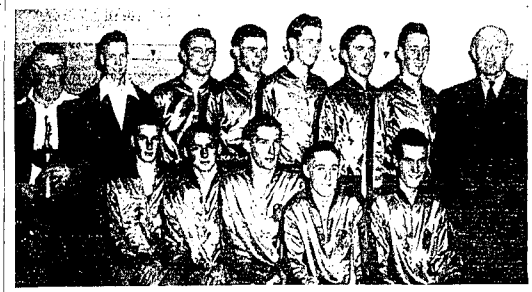

Milton Hyde likes championships and he produced a son. That son was Ronnie Hyde, a member of the 1946 Rupert district champions.

That may be a good omen for a state championship.

It was really a Rupert tournament. John Norby, who brought his Jerome Tigers in second, is a former Rupert athlete. And, incidentally John did a great job of coaching to bring his Tigers up to the tournament at their best.

Western Sportsmen Meet Here in June

District Champions Again After 20 Years

Here are Coach George Hays' Rupert Pirates, who last night climaxed a great season, in which they won all their games with Magic Valley teams, by defeating the Jerome Tigers for the district championship. They are, left to right: First row—Henry Conlin, Rodney Pollard, Junior Gibson, Gerald Culley and Ronny Hyde; standing—Robert Jackson, manager; Gene Snapp, LeRoy DePalmo, Glenn Goff, Jimmy Friesen, Dale Mendenhall, Harvey Conlin and Hays. Dates for Big Event Released By Walt Priebe

The annual convention of Western Association of State Game and Fish Commissioners will be conducted here June 17, 18, and 19, Walter R. Priebe, chairman of the south-central Idaho district of Idaho Wildlife federation, announced last night. Fish and game officials from 11 states will attend. A large delegation of sportsmen is also expected.

The convention will be the first the association has had in Idaho since 1926. It will also be the most extensive conference in several years. The group has held curtailed meetings during the war. As travel barriers have been lifted it is anticipated that attendance will be large.

James O. Beck, director of the Idaho fish and game department, is association president. He and Gordon True of the California department, secretary, are arranging the formal program which will include discussion of western wildlife problems by authorities in several fields. Entertainment will be provided by fourth district sportsmen.

"This meeting," said Priebe, "will be the most important assembly of sportsmen in the entire western United States this year. As we are entering a post-war period of tremendous enthusiasm for field and stream recreation the discussions will be particularly interesting."

Plans for the convention will be considered at a fourth district meeting in Burley the latter part of March.

Magic Valley Cue Tourney to Be Staged Here

The revival of billiard playing in Twin Falls resulted in the announcement last night that a tournament would be staged at the Rec parlor designed to produce the Magic Valley's champion of the green cloth. The tournament will start at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday with the entries closing Tuesday night.

The tournament will be open to Magic Valley players only and it will be a scratch affair with no handicaps.

A trophy awarded by Sturgeon McCoy and Edgar Patrick, will go to the winner. Each entrant will play each other twice and each game will consist of 100 points.

The handicap tournament at the H. and M. ended Friday night with Matt Beglan the winner, playing for 75 points. Beglan defeated Frank Green, 75-128, in 20 innings, a record for the tournament. Green had a high run of 29 and Beglan 12.

McCoy gained the runner-up honors when he won from Bruce Vanderhoof, playing for 60 points, 75 to 45. McCoy had a high run of 10.

Beglan will receive a Willie Hoppe model jointed cue, while McCoy will get a silver stroke limited cut, both to be made to the players' specifications.

Tourney wins and loses were Beglan, 10-1; McCoy, 9-2; Green, 7-4; Howard Leland, 7-4; Walter Cullen, 5-6; Gilbert McCarter, 5-6; Joe Wilson, 4-7; Harry Povey, 4-7; Edgar Patrick, 3-8; Ross Gay, 3-8, and Vanderhoof, 2-9.

Simplots Defeated By Phillips, 45-43

DENVER, March 2 (AP)—The Phillips 66 Oilers from Bartlesville, Okla., knocked out a five-point deficit in the final three minutes tonight to eliminate the Salt Lake City Simplot-Desserts from the American basketball league tournament, 45-43.

Phillips 66 will go up against San Francisco Monday night in the tournament final.

POCATELLO SIGNS CATCHER

POCATELLO, March 2 (AP)—Joe Borich of Sacramento has been obtained as a catcher for the Pocatello Cardinals, Mike Carpenter, business manager, announced today.

2 Smiths May Form Cowboy Catching Staff This Season

Not the Smith brothers, but Smith and Smith may be the catchers for the Twin Falls Cowboys when they inaugurate their Pioneer league season. President Maury Doerr of the Wranglers announced last night that he had sent contracts to Theron Smith at Cleveland, Ida., and Kingsley Smith, Aberdeen, S. D.

Doerr knows little about Theron Smith other than that he is five-seven and weighs 180 pounds and played on the Camp Pendleton team while in the marines. Yankee Scout Joe Devine recommended to Doerr to sign the youngster on the basis of the fact that he played with that marine team, which was exceptionally strong.

The other Smith is only 18 years of age, but he was the star of Aberdeen's strong American Legion team and enters the Yankee organization with a fat bonus as an inducement.

"Yankee scouts who saw him agree that he does everything just like an outstanding baseball player should," Doerr has been informed.

Another player in the Yankee organization optioned to the Cowboys by Norfolk of the Piedmont league is Robert Douglas Grant, an outfielder. He is six-foot-two and weighs 200 pounds. He is a left-handed batter.

At Akron in the Mid-Atlantic league he made 38 extra-base hits and drove in 52 runs. When he entered the service, the powerful fellow, who also is fast, was just beginning to hit.

Former Uclan Grid Star on Mat Program

Cliff Thiede, a former University of California at Los Angeles gridiron star, will be introduced to the wrestling fans of the Magic Valley Wednesday night on the program to be staged at Filer high school.

Thiede will wrestle Bill Goetcher, Los Angeles, in a three-fall match that has a time limit of one hour. Goetcher, a Greek, is a protege of Jim London, the former champion.

The main event will be provided by Floyd Hansen, Salt Lake City, and John Spiedo, champion of Portland. This will be a three-fall match with no time-limit.

Cougars, Bulldogs In Pocatello Meet

NAMPA, March 2 (AP)—Caldwell high school won the right to compete in the southern Idaho class A basketball tourney at Pocatello by defeating Meridian tonight, 46-40. Caldwell meets Nampa Monday for the district championship but Nampa already has qualified for the Pocatello meet.

TIGERS UNBEATEN

IDAHO FALLS, March 2 (AP)—Idaho Falls and Rigby remained undefeated in the district six class basketball tournament tonight as Idaho Falls defeated Rexburg, 50 to 28, here and Rigby beat Shelley, 43 to 27, at St. Anthony.

BROWNS DEFEAT PIRATES

LOS ANGELES, March 2 (AP)—Walter Judnich's three-run homer in the second inning sparked an early power drive by St. Louis as the Browns defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-5, in the first intersquad baseball game of the exhibition season.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

What? Another Dinty Moore?

Seemingly, Ye Olde Sport Scriveher is always running across another Dinty Moore as he combs the highways and by-ways of this sports world.

There's Dinty Moore in New York. Ah, what memories—of delicious corned-beef and cabbage! Just the kind that YOSS' old Hibernian mug readily blends into.

Then there's Dinty down in Memphis. "There, now, stranger, that will be enough!" you'll find some cop saying as he taps you on the shoulder while you are reaching for your second bottle of beer down in Dinty's emporium there.

And then there's the St. Louis Dinty. Boy, how he could kick a soccer ball. He was one of the world's best at that game.

Finally, there's Hagerman's Dinty. Right-o, old chappie, he's a sport phan. And he comes up with a letter to the paper one that will satisfy the curiosity of a number of veteran fans and settle a few arguments.

Says Hagerman's Dinty:

"In your article of Feb. 27, the question as to who made the last putout when the Cowboys won the pennant in 1939 is raised. I'd like to answer that question."

(This ancient word puddler's note: Go right ahead, Dinty, because the paddy one hasn't the time right now to dig into the files.)

"Although I haven't access to the record books or files, I do think I have a fair memory of sports. As I remember in that game that the Cowboys clinched the pennant, Frank Edmond made the putout in center-field.

"To go further, Bob Kinnaman pitched the pennant clinching game. Check for me and see if I'm not right. Furthermore, I saw around 30 games that season at Cowboy park." YOSS'll bet you break your record this year, Dinty).

"As this is still the basketball season, would like to know if you've seen our Hagerman Pirates play and what you think of our chances in the tournament at Pocatello." (If Jack Martin's lads play a slow, deliberate game, and do not try to match the opposition's speed, this ancient typewriter tormentor believes they've got a chance with any team).

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, EXCEPT: Good old Dinty! How would YOSS get out a sports page without Dinty and the other real sports in the Magic Valley?

HERE'S THE

HEIL PLATFORM CONVERSION HOIST!

The Heil Platform Conversion Hoist will solve your hauling and dumping problems. The time saved dumping the load instead of taking it off expensively by hand allows you to make more trips per day, haul more loads profitably and make deliveries on time. Avoid those unprofitable delays and increase the usefulness of your truck.

This compact hoist fits so snugly between the body and the chassis that the original platform height is increased only 3-15 16 inches. This means you can have the convenience of hydraulic dumping and still have the low, easy loading features of a straight platform truck. Come in and see it tomorrow!

Dee Ain't Mad at Nobody

Here's some good news for you farmers. I just returned from a little trip, and while there I purchased a gasoline tank, pump and equipment for the truck that we will soon have to deliver the gas to your door, field or wherever you might want it. We will be able to deliver your oils and greases also, so if you would like to place your order now, that will be just fine.

This good Arkansas oil speaks for itself for those who have been using it for the last several years, and for those who have used it even but a few times. I might endeavor to tell you just a little about it for the benefit of those who have never used it.

Lion Naturalube is superior to conventional type oils! In saving wear, in saving repairs, in saving fuel; in saving shut-down time and in conserving power. Lion Naturalube is SAFE. The practical significance of Naturalube's stability is emphasized by the results of tests made by Dr. Sidney Born, of Tulsa, Okla., a recognized authority on petroleum chemistry and engineering. The tests were made to determine whether any of the various grades of Naturalube have any corrosive action on the bearing metals commonly used in automobile engines. The results obtained in the tests, Dr. Born stated:

"Summarizing the results it is our opinion that Naturalube of the various grades tested would have no corrosive action on the bearing metals commonly used in automobiles. The tests we conducted were run at a temperature considerably higher than those found in the crankcase or on the rod bearings and if there had been any corrosive action it would have been plainly evident under these conditions."

Naturalube does not contain nor form substances which are injurious to metal surfaces.

Hope you are the same

Gooding Girls to Resume Scouting

Mrs. Otto Schild, jr., has been appointed leader of the Girl Scouts and will be assisted by Mrs. David Doane. Mrs. Schild is a graduate of the University of Idaho. She was active in Girl Scouts, serving as a counselor and swimming instructor, prior to leaving Nampa. Mrs. Schild also holds a Red Cross water safety instructor's certificate.

Mrs. Doane is a home economics graduate of the University of Idaho. She is a charter member of the Gooding troop organized in 1935 and has had considerable experience in handicraft work.

New Construction To House Bakery

JEROME, March 2 — Construction is now underway for a new building which will house a bakery here, it was announced this week.

Jerome has been without a bakery since last year when fire destroyed the interior of the old bakery located in the structure now occupied by the Jerome Home and Auto Supply company.

New managers of the bakery will be James Elseman, formerly of McCall. The new business will be known as "Jim's Home Bakery." Both wholesale and retail sales will be handled. The other brick structure is being built by Al Robinson, Jerome, and will be 25 by 100 feet with full basement. Elseman is not new to the baker's trade, having operated one at Huntington, Ore. He is 27, is married and has two small children. His family lives at Boise until housing here can be obtained.

So deadly is the new 1,080 rodenticide developed during the war by U. S. government agencies, that only professional rat killers and other trained pest exterminators will be allowed to buy it for civilian use.

Anti-Spanish Plot Charged Against Reds

MADRID, March 2 (AP) — The Franco government declared today that the closing of the Spanish frontier by France and anti-Spanish demonstrations abroad were part of an international communist plot designed to drag Spain "down into disorder and chaos."

In a 2,000-word communique issued after a lengthy cabinet meeting, the government said the "suffering French people" were not responsible for what it termed an "anti-Spanish campaign."

Communism Rapped

"It is necessary to make known once again that, under the appearance of false humanitarianism and simulated compassion, there is being developed a new campaign of lies and calumnies against Spain, of which the promoter and active agent is international communism," the communique said.

Protests against the recent execution of 10 Spanish anti-fascists were inspired by communists who glorified "vulgar and common criminals as martyrs of a political idea," the statement asserted.

The communique said the protests followed the regular communist pattern, and added that this in itself was proof that the protests were part of a communist campaign.

The protests spread in the guise of a watchword," the government asserted, and "shortly after that began anti-Spanish demonstrations and meetings and later attacks against buildings of our missions abroad."

Firmness Planned

The government is "inexorably resolved and decided to maintain order with all firmness and to guarantee national security," the statement continued.

Spain also "makes a move to appeal to the conscience of the world against this unprecedented campaign by means of which an attempt is being made by the worst methods to drag down into disorder and chaos a country in order and peace, which has complied with its international duties like no other."

The French-Spanish border, closed officially at midnight yesterday, was quiet during the day.

At Marine Exhibit

Inspecting one of the Japanese rifles collected by his buddies in the fifth marine division on Kyushu is Cpl. Thomas F. Piper, 21, who is still receiving treatment at Oak Knoll hospital, Oakland, Calif., for wounds. The collection, mounted in a specially-fitted trailer, will be shown in Twin Falls from 9 to 11 a. m. Tuesday and from noon to 1 p. m., and at Burley at 2:30 p. m. (Marine corps photo)

* * * *

Japanese weapons, including ancient and modern articles of warfare, will be displayed at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Burley high school, according to S Sgt. Ted Letendre, local marine recruiter.

The display, which will be housed in a large van, also will be on exhibit in front of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company from 9 to 11 a. m. Tuesday and from noon until 1 p. m. in front of the high school here.

Guarding the collection will be 10 men and an officer of the fifth marine division. The group will arrive in Twin Falls Monday afternoon, Sergeant Letendre said.

The weapons are the museum choice of nearly 200,000 collected by the fifth marine division during its occupation of the Japanese island of Kyushu.

Included in the collection are nearly 80 examples of Japanese skill in making fine swords, hari-kiri knives and ancient guns as well as modern rifles and pistols. Ancient battle-axes and a three-pronged spear are other articles which may be viewed by the public here Tuesday.

Spring Fashion News . . .

First to present them . . . come see the spring 1946 fashions that will make the headlines for this gay new season. Again this year Mother Nature is getting some pretty keen competition. Our young ladies of America are matching color for color, beauty for beauty with anything nature can produce for spring. Just look at the suits—pert and pretty as a saucy daffodil and our other accessories—budding all over with color. Hats? They're out of this world! Come in today and join our fashion team of spring favorites.

A LOVELIER YOU
in a handsome
Spring Suit

Suits continue to be a very important type of ready to wear for Spring and, since they are softly detailed and the collarless suit is the big volume type, they will spotlight the importance of certain accessory fashions particularly neckwear, jewelry, and handbags.

Spring Hats

A-top your head bright flowers grow this glorious spring. Roses, violets, sweet peas — your favorite blossoms in artistic array bedeck the new season bonnets. Our millinery department is in bloom. Come pluck your bouquet now.

Sheer Black is so Lovely

Shiny Black is a dramatic accessory color that will give the required note of sparkling accent and, therefore, we find Black Plastic Patent Handbags very important.

Give

Scarfs Galore

Scarfs are another accessory brought into fashion prominence to wear with collarless suits and also with collarless coats. Squares and ascots are also being used for halters, sashes, etc.

Blouses fresh as Spring

Suits require some kind of blouse and, therefore, we note with interest the development of the Poncho for blouette or demi-blouse, as a popular blouse substitute and the number one neckwear fashion for spring.

Accessories To Spring

Throat hugging necklines in coats and suits will focus the fashion spotlight on the continued and steadily growing importance of necklaces and clips. Heavy link bracelets and cuff bracelets offer staple charm.

Ponchos are important not only because of their attractive styling but also because they have the added sales appeal of being easy to launder and adjustable in size.
